

'Playoff fever' will aid local businesses

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

For a long time the St. Louis Cardinals' football and baseball teams have finished close to or in the cellar of their division, but with the Cardinals' win over Montreal Monday night came the hope of a World Series victory, the first in 14 years.

Local hotels and restaurants are getting ready for the onslaught of people who will come to the area to attend the games at Busch Stadium on Oct. 6 and 7.

With only 4,000 bleacher tickets remaining, there will be many more fans unable to obtain the precious admittance tickets than those who can. Many without tickets plan to watch the games on TV at their favorite local pubs. Bar owners also are preparing for next Wednesday and Thursday, perhaps even more than hotel and restaurant proprietors.

At the Sports Tap, the TV is on all the time," said Terry Balcer, the tavern's manager. The bar, at 916 Niedringhaus Ave., known for its sports-oriented crowd, will show all the playoff and World Series games regardless of what teams play.

Happy hours will run "the entire course of the games," Balcer said. A "packed house" is expected at each game.

Local motel owners also are hoping for packed houses, with higher than usual occupancy rates. While most of the smaller Granite City motels are patiently waiting for the St. Louis hotel overflow, several Collinsville businesses already report near-full reservations for the game nights.

"We only have eight rooms left for the 6th," said Kathy Heath, front desk manager at the Collinsville Holiday Inn, Interstate 70 and Route 157. About 78 rooms were booked between Saturday and Tuesday morning with about 100 rooms still open for the night of Oct. 7, she said. Apparently, fans are planning to pack up, go to the game and then home on Thursday, she added. However, those wishing to stay over will have that option.

Dana Woodward, also an employee at the Holiday Inn, said that about 75 percent of the groups who have stayed there during the Cardinal season are from Illinois. A convention scheduled for St. Louis next week also has helped their reservations increase for the two days, she added.

The Water Pollution Control Federation convention is set for Oct. 3 to 7 with about 10,000 people expected, according to Vicki Wakeland, a secretary at the Cervantes Convention Center.

Employees at several Collinsville hotels and motels said the convenient interstate highway transportation to St. Louis is the biggest reason the Collinsville hotels and motels fill up so quickly.

Drury Inn, 533 Ramada, Collinsville, has had baseball fans stay there all season. Lee Powell, the head desk clerk, said the Drury has started to get reservations for the playoffs and that many people have been booking rooms as they checked out this week. Most of the fans have been from Illinois and Indiana. "We'll be filled up," she predicted.

Lead survey begins

By GEORGEANN McGEHEE
of the Press-Record

State agents are knocking on doors today and visiting some school playgrounds to gather vegetable or soil samples for lead analysis to check possible sources of lead ingestion.

The testing follows the latest Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's (IEPA) annual air quality report, citing Granite City as having had the highest lead reading ever recorded in the state. During the last three months of 1981, for two days, local lead levels exceeded health standards by 20 times.

In July, the state issued an air quality bulletin on the lead situation here, which revealed a high lead content had been found in a previous analysis of dirt samples taken in the area between 15th Street and Madison Avenue, and Roosevelt Avenue and Rock Road.

About 70 residents throughout the Quad-City area are being asked today to allow IEPA's representatives to remove vegetables from yard gardens or to take portions of home grown vegetables that already have been canned or frozen.

Some selected school playgrounds are targeted for soil boring samples. About 35 soil samples are expected to be gathered from various city locations by tonight.

According to James J. Maloney of the IEPA Division of Air Pollution Control, while the samples are gathered by this department, the Illinois Department of Health is simultaneously combing the records of the Childhood Lead Poisoning Control office on Nameoki Road to study tests results of blood analysis intended to detect high lead blood levels only.

The state health employees are trying to determine if a much broader blood lead level survey is warranted here to detect more subtle lead levels. Officials are concerned about the safety of lower, but still elevated lead blood levels, which could possibly impair intelligence.

Most vegetation sampling is being conducted between the 15th and Madison Avenue air monitor, registering the highest level of lead, and the 20th and Adams streets monitor that recorded the second highest reading last year. Samples are being taken in neighborhoods on both sides of the Taracorp Industries, 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, Maloney said.

Comparative samples also are being taken from the city outside the high lead reading zone.

"Some people (samplers) will go to the outskirts, where you don't expect to find the impact," he said, yesterday. A few residents, aware of the state investigation, volunteered in advance to have samples taken from their gardens.

More school borrowing voted

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Authority to borrow another $2 million was voted by the Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night as it approved budgets totaling $29,924,019 and tax levies amounting to $9,372,046.

No changes were made in tentative budget and levy amounts.

New tax anticipation warrants were limited to $2 million at this time at the suggestion of Board Members David Partney and Robert Maxwell.

Also approving the borrowing plan were President George Moore, Donald Stucke and Dewey Melton. Thomas Miosky and Monroe Worthen were absent. Maxwell is board secretary and Melton is district treasurer.

Additional loans also are to be authorized, at subsequent meetings in the year. The board's sessions next month will be on Oct. 5 and 19.

Norman S. Owca, director of finance, related that "We have collected $3,852,110 of the expected $6,213,378 education fund real estate taxes, based on 98 percent collection of the 1981 extended levy of $6,340,181 (for 1982 collection).

"Providing we receive 98 percent of the actual levy, we should get an additional $2,361,268, which will partially be used to redeem our currently outstanding education fund tax anticipation warrants of $1,265,732."

"On Aug. 24, permission was granted to issue $850,000 of additional 1981 education fund warrants. Currently, we have borrowed $545,000 of this $850,000, and the remaining $305,000 to be borrowed will bring us to 85 percent (the legal borrowing limit) of the 1981 extended levy."

"We will have a cash balance on Oct. 1 of about $120,000 and will borrow the $200,000 for a total of $425,000 available to apply toward an estimated certified payroll of $630,000. Therefore, in order to meet this payroll, we must borrow $205,000 in 1982 tax warrants (1983 collection).

"Based on our estimated 1982 education fund tax levies, we can borrow $6,008,381. I request authority to issue 1982 warrants for $6 million in the education fund, as needed."

It was at this point that the board substituted the $2 million figure, asking that the administrative staff consult with the board again when loans beyond that total become necessary.

Estimates show that the district may have to borrow the $6 million in first-year warrants and $1.7 million in second-year warrants before the current fiscal year ends in June 1983.

The board designated Treasurer Melton and Board Members Worthen and Partney to consult with bank officials from time to time on borrowing procedures.

The 1982-83 budget of $29,924,019 lists $25,890,424 for education, $1,975,200 for the operations, building and maintenance fund, $1,306,400 for the transportation fund and $711,995 for the municipal retirement fund (employee pensions).

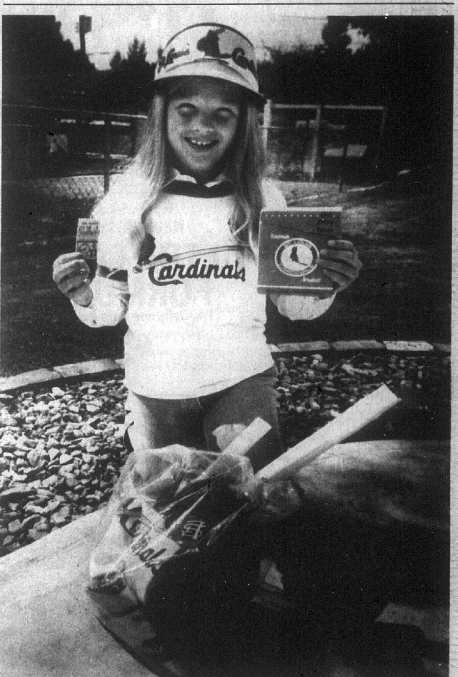

A different breakdown of the same total shows $17,468,559 for instruction, $11,828,610 support services, $430,000 contingencies, $172,000 debt service interest, $15,770 non-program charges and $6,880 community services.

The 1982 tax levies of $9,372,046 consist of $6,961,500 for education, $1,023,750 for the building fund, $535,000 municipal retirement, $327,000 transportation, $251,116 for immunity, $136,500 life safety fund and $136,500 working cash fund.

It will be decided in December whether to change the projected 13.751 percent levy increase to 18 or 20 percent. Another public hearing would precede any levy revisions.

The possible rate rises are 1.8639, six or seven percent.

ONE IN TWO MILLION. Rachel Bathon, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bathon of Madison, was the two-millionth person to attend a Cardinal baseball game at Busch Stadium this year. For being the lucky two millionth person, Rachel received season tickets to the 1983 season and a bag of Cardinal collectibles. Rachel and her parents met Fredbird, the Cardinal mascot, during a pre-game ceremony in her honor last Friday prior to the Cardinal-Chicago Cub game.

New GC group seeks to aid the troubled

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

A new concept in helping adults and young people gain insight into their emotional problems and frustrations, using the same methods as practiced by Alcoholics Anonymous, now is being offered to residents in the Quad-City area and surrounding communities.

Emotions Anonymous (EA) does for the person seeking emotional health what Alcoholics Anonymous does for the alcoholic, proponents of the program said this week.

EA follows the 12-Step Program of Alcoholics Anonymous, adapted with their permission for persons with emotional or everyday living problems. The new chapter, currently being organized here, will hold its initial meeting at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 2, at the Coordinated Youth Services center, Niedringhaus and Delmar Avenues.

Men, women and teenagers between the ages of 13 and 19 are being invited to attend the first session and learn more about the program, according to Earl and Anna (as in AA, last names are never used), a Granite City man and wife team who are organizing the EA chapter here.

There are no dues or fees for EA membership, it was stressed. EA is a non-profit fellowship, supported entirely by the voluntary contributions of its members.

Prospective members who cannot afford a donation are just as welcome as those who can contribute. "Far

New food stamp benefits higher

Food stamp recipients will get an eight percent cost-of-food increase in their food stamp benefits beginning tomorrow, Oct. 1, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mary C. Jarratt has announced.

"This action increases the food purchasing power of food stamp recipients to keep up with the rising cost of food," she said. The increase reflects changes in the cost of food between October 1980 and June 1982. The allotment for a family of four with no income, for example, will increase from its current level of $233 a month to $253 a month.

Food stamp allotments are based on USDA's thrifty food plan, which provides an adequate level of nutrition for various sized households, taking into account food prices. As the cost of food rises, the thrifty food plan rises with it.

Following are the new maximum monthly food stamp allotments which will take effect for families of various sizes in the continental U.S. on Oct. 1:

Household size: one, $75; two persons, $139; three, $199; four, $253; five, $300; six, $360; seven, $398; and eight, $455.

Each additional member adds $57 to the figure. Allotments for recipients in Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, and the Virgin Islands are slightly higher than those in the continental U.S.

Departments slash requests, but more county cuts needed

By JIM SCHLUETER

Most Madison County departments have turned in their budget requests for fiscal year 1983, and at this point the county's finance committee will have to make cuts up to $900,000 to avoid a deficit when the general fund budget is approved Dec. 1.

That was the figure derived by Director of Administration Mary Kane, Thursday as the committee looked at the budget requests turned in so far.

She also said that two large county departments, the treasurer and the county clerk, and several smaller departments had not turned in requests by early this week.

"We're still $900,000 to the bad at this point in time," Mrs. Kane said. "And that's ripping the heart out of a lot of budgets."

The county has known for months that revenues have been shrinking, and that if spending trends continue, the county would be faced with a $2 million general fund deficit in 1983.

According to Mrs. Kane, 90 percent of the requests turned in came in with cuts, and over half met the percentage requested by the finance committee.

Among the departments turning in requests was the sheriff's department. The sheriff had the county's largest budget in 1982, with $1,973,137 for his department and $889,128 for the jail.

According to Mrs. Kane, Sheriff Emil Toffant said the separate line items for the jail and then make reductions from the sheriff's department would have to be combined this year for his budget to reach the targeted reduction of six percent.

By combining the two departments, Mrs. Kane said the sheriff can use what money is needed to operate the jail and then make reductions from the sheriff's department.

To prepare this year's budget, the finance committee had sent priority lists to all county board members, and the departments receiving the highest priority would be asked to take the smallest budget cuts in 1983.

After receiving these rankings, the committee gave each department a preliminary budget figure made up of the department's 1983 negotiated salary expense and the operational expenses of 1982.

The committee then asked departments to cut that preliminary figure by the percentage determined by the priority rankings.

The finance committee also went over the list of capital expenditure requests which would be paid for with federal revenue sharing money. The county will receive $914,000 in revenue sharing funds in 1983.

Included on the list of capital expenditure requests were the purchase of a new telephone system for the courthouse, 20 new patrol cars for the sheriff's department at an estimated cost of $8,500 a car, and new windows, insulation and a boiler system for the nursing home.

Army Specialist 4 Carl A. Holik, son of Virginia and John Holik of 1826 Cleveland Blvd., is one of more than 100,000 U.S. soldiers and airmen participating in the U.S. Army REFORGER, or return of forces to Germany, and the U.S. Air Force Crested Cap exercises in Europe.

U.S. service members in Europe, as well as those from the United States, joined their NATO partners in ground exercises centering on central West Germany east of the Rhine River.

The joint exercises are designed to demonstrate U.S. capabilities to reinforce Europe with NATO-committed ground and air units in a crisis situation. Holik is a combat engineer with the First Engineer Battalion at Fort Riley, Kan.

Award to Sen. Alan Dixon

Senator Alan J. Dixon has earned the "Guardian of Small Business" Award from the National Federation of Independent Businesses (NFIB) for his voting record on small-business issues.

The nation's largest small-business group presented Dixon with the award because he voted with a majority of NFIB members 76 percent of the time.

Senators were rated on 21 recorded votes during this session of Congress. Issues ranged from cutting the budget to raising unemployment taxes and simplifying the regulatory process. Those members of Congress who did not have recorded votes on at least 70 percent of the issues, included in the ratings were not eligible for the award.

NFIB is a non-profit, non-partisan organization representing 15,723 small-business owners in Illinois and more than a half-million independent businesses across the country.

"I deeply appreciate this honor, not only for myself, but for the attention it focuses on the importance of small business in this country," Dixon said. "I believe it only makes good sense to support that sector of our economy which produces the greatest number of jobs and innovations and shows the greatest promise for the future."

University looks toward catch-up pay

State funds being sought to operate the Southern Illinois University System for fiscal year 1984, beginning July 1, 1983, total $178.6 million, 13 percent over the current fiscal year.

Requests were approved this month by the Board of Trustees as part of the Resource Allocation and Management Program (RAMP).

The RAMP document is required by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) for communicating the university's planning decisions and resource requirements for the next fiscal year.

The total proposed increase of about $20.5 million is based principally on salary and price increase guidelines of 8.5 percent for all employees; nine percent for general price increases; 10 percent for library materials; and six percent for fire protection.

Also projected are 14.7 percent for utility price increases at SIU at Carbondale, 20 percent for the SIU School of Medicine, and 24.6 percent for SIU at Edwardsville.

The increase also includes $1.3 million for operation and maintenance of new space; $2.6 million for new and expanded programs and other special needs; and $2 million for special salary "catch-up" increase funds.

Also included are two "negative adjustments" for SIUE: a normative cost adjustment of $650,000, based on the IBHE's use of a normative cost analysis study; and $200,000 for the School of Dental Medicine.

By units, the operating budget requests, excluding retirement contributions, are:

SIUC—$103 million; SIUC School of Medicine—$23.5 million; SIUE—$44.6 million; SIUE School of Dental Medicine—$4.3 million; office of the chancellor—$1 million; system total—$178.6 million. Exclusive of the special salary increase "catch-up" funds, the net increase requested for the system is $18.4 million, representing a rise of 11.7 percent over the 1982-83 operating budget approved this month by the board.

Attends bank school session

Robert H. Karandjoff, American Heritage Bank, Granite City, attended the 38th annual session of the Herbert V. Prochnow Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin-Madison this summer.

The School, sponsored by 16 state banker groups composing the Central States Conference of Bankers Associations, was established in 1945 to provide bankers with an opportunity for advanced study and research in banking, economics and monetary problems. This year, 1,600 from 43 states and Puerto Rico attended.

Instruction takes place in three two-week summer sessions, along with extension (home study) work, including comprehensive banking problems to be completed in the period between summer resident sessions.

A faculty of over 160 includes leading bankers, economists, educators, consultants and government officials from 25 states.

Speaker at this year's summer session included U.S. Senator Jake Garn, Utah, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee.

The president of the American Bankers Association, Llewellyn Jenkins, was the speaker at the commencement exercises. He is vice-chairman of the board of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co.

icipation is strictly by freewill donation. Those who can't pay are not forced to pay," Earl stressed.

Explaining that the local group will include both teens and adults, at least at the start, Earl said usually separate programs are arranged for the different age levels. "We are going to try to merge the two groups into one and, if the original group grows too fast, we'll probably split into separate meetings. We have a goal of 20 persons and, if we reach that number, we'll also start a second group," he said.

"The meetings last anywhere from 60 minutes to two hours, depending on how many people want to talk about their problems."

"EA is a fellowship where people share their experiences, their strengths and their weakness and give hope to each other while practicing the 12 steps to this new way of life — one day at a time," Earl explained.

"It's a spiritual program, not a religious program, and it is helpful to people of all faiths, or of no recognized faith, in order to live a better life."

Anna commented that she really believes if young people get interested in the program, it could really help them. "I don't know how we can get their interest, but we are hoping that police officers, school counselors, attorneys and youth service workers will refer any young people who are experiencing emotional difficulties to our meetings," she said.

In return, Anna and Earl explained, persons who cannot be helped through the EA program are referred to physicians or psychiatrists.

Emotions Anonymous is not a new organization on the national scene. Earl said, it was started in St. Paul, Minn., in 1971 and has been slowly expanding into other areas of the country.

There are two chapters in St. Louis with members from Belleville and Collinsville who are planning to attend chapter meetings here, instead of traveling to Missouri.

"If a person has gone the whole route of other methods of treatment and has not achieved inner peace and serenity...if your life is like a shoe that pinches and you are not as happy as you would like to be..."

"Or, if your emotions interfere with your daily activities and your wholesome relationships with others, you are invited to discover, as others have, that the EA fellowship of weekly meetings is warm and friendly and that it is also important to achieving and maintaining emotional health," Earl said.

Earl knows first-hand that the 12 Step Program works. He drank for 18 years before joining Alcoholics Anonymous 2½ years ago. "AA took the desire to drink away from me," he said.

"I still struggle in the first place because of emotional problems and four or five months ago I became interested in how it could help others and learn how the program worked and then decided to start a chapter here."

Neither Earl nor his wife are getting paid for their efforts in forming the new EA chapter. "I'll get paid by helping others. When you sit around a table and listen to the problems of others, you learn that you are not half bad off yourself," Earl said.

Anna pointed out the EA program strongly advocates loving one another and sharing and caring about each other. "It is wonderful to see someone who is helped by the program. At first, a person comes in feeling really down...maybe his family has busted up or something...and he or she looks sick," Earl said.

"Pretty soon, you see them change as their lives get better. They change both physically and mentally and it is beautiful to see this happen," he said. "Nowadays, when I walk downtown, people smile and speak, it's so different. But, really, it's because of the change in my own attitude," he admitted.

Earl stressed that, unless the individual cares to be identified for a specific reason, those taking part in the EA program are known only by their first names.

Another key rule applied at all EA meetings is a slogan, which also is used in the Al-Anon Family Group sessions, a program for the spouses and family of alcoholics.

The slogan is, "WHO you see here...WHAT you hear here...WHEN you leave here...LET IT STAY HERE."

Anyone wishing further information about Emotions Anonymous may call Earl and Anna at 451-7493 or attend Saturday's meeting at 2 p.m. at the CYS Center.

Lead study

morning, is one of three identification and testing steps planned by the state for this area, Maloney said. The state is coordinating the three-phase process to:

— Hunt for the source or sources of the high lead emissions.

— Locate the total quantity of lead residents are exposed to through their combined air, food and water supplies.

— Make the final determination on what health effect the lead exposure has had on the residents here.

To accomplish the first goal, the IEPA has already installed a new, more frequently checked air monitor within a block of the suspected source, to more exactly pinpoint the emissions.

In addition, a new type of chemical "fingerprint" analysis will be used to match past and future samples showing high lead with samples taken from suspected sources.

The second part of the program is being accomplished today through the vegetation and soil samplings. Water quality also will be studied.

The study has three aims — to decide what threshold of lead is allowable before a health danger is evident, what testing program can best detect such levels, and on what scale to conduct such tests. The latter has yet to be decided by the Department of Public Health. A decision is expected sometime later this month.

Maloney said yesterday that, due to the late start in the season, there is a good possibility that little is left in home gardens to use for testing, making the canned and frozen vegetables an acceptable alternative. That decision was made after consulting with testing specialists.

stated in an earlier interview with the Press-Record.

According to the IEPA Air Quality Report, lead accumulates both in the environment and the body, being absorbed first in the bloodstream, which distributes lead to the body's soft tissues. The lead is particularly sensitive to lead poisoning.

Testing of the samples will be carried out in three or four different laboratories to shorten the waiting period for results, the IEPA spokesman said. That agency, along with the state health department, a private laboratory, and, perhaps, the Federal Drug Administration, will do the initial sample analysis, expected to be completed by the end of the year.

As far as the interpretation of the lead analysis, results might not be issued before late February or early March.

SPECIAL COUNTY MEETING

The Madison County Board has scheduled a special meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. for the purpose to consider accepting the donation of the former Security Investment Company building at 116 to 118 Hillboro in Edwardsville. The meeting will be at the Courthouse in Edwardsville.

School borrowing

In addition to the levies adopted Tuesday night, the board is considering adding a special education building levy and increasing the tort immunity levy for a new grand total of up to $9,800,730.

Without the potential levy additions, it is estimated that the $3.38 school tax rate on each $100 assessed valuation will rise 5.3 cents to $5.433 if the district's overall assessment rises from $243,768 to $273 million.

"For special education, the board adopted a 1982-83 budget of $630,539. Only one person voiced comments during a public hearing on the District Nine financial documents."

Mrs. Shirley Stoll, president of Local 743, American Federation of Teachers, asked to address the board and said:

"The Granite City Federation of Teachers is in the process of making inquiries about the finances of Granite City School District Nine so that we may have a more clear understanding of the figures in the budget and the figures which have appeared in newspapers."

"We are scheduling a meeting with Norman Owca to clarify this information."

"We reserve the right to comment on the district's finances until that time." Board Member Partney appeared to take exception to the comments and asked, "What is the purpose of the statement?"

Mrs. Stoll then reiterated the desire for a clearer understanding of the budget before voicing the federation's reaction to Granite City school finances. A 5-0 vote for final adoption of the new budget followed.

Owca said, "The levies recommended this year take into consideration the decrease in state aid, and reduction of the corporate personal property tax replacement revenue provided by the replacement tax."

"If assessed valuation is more than projected, the estimated tax rates will drop proportionately."

"If the actual assessment is less than projected, the extension of education, building, transportation, life safety and working cash fund levies will be reduced to what can be produced by the maximum rates applied to the actual valuation."

Hiring for special education positions

The Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night hired Dr. Pamela H. Gindler.

The psychologist will provide services to Granite City special education region on a contractual basis.

John Bohnestiel was hired as an assistant volleyball coach at Granite City High School South.

A leave of absence from Sept. 20 to Nov. 15, was authorized for Sharon Oviatt, a Wilson School upper intermediate teacher, due to illness.

Also citing illness, Richard Pritchard, South High boiler man, received an Oct. 1 to Jan. 2 extension of an existing leave of absence.

Mary Beth Gordon is resigning as a social worker to further her education.

The special education director is appointing a six-member study committee to review the high school trainable mentally handicapped program and develop recommendations by January.

He will conduct a small-group, in-service training session for school building administrators on referral and testing procedures.

Esther Vasiloff, a psychologist, will work for the special education region on a contractual basis at $110 a day for up to 182 days during the 1982-83 school year.

Work hours for psychologists are being lengthened to 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and the supervisor of psychologists will work from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Raises of 9½ percent were granted to Jane McGregor, occupational therapist, who will receive $20,200; Debbie Clemons, physical therapist, $20,200; Jan Odman, physical therapist (part-time), $9,200; Carla McGinnis, occupational therapy assistant, $10,815; and Vicky Lightfoot, physical therapy assistant, $9,723.

A voice clinic is to be operated with funding through Public Law 94-142 in-service grants. The clinic proposal has been developed by Linda Knogel, speech therapist.

Granite City Supt. B. J. Davis and Madison Supt. John Palchiff will continue as delegates of the special education region to the Tenco (ten-county regional educational grant) Organization. Steve Balen, director of special education, is the alternate delegate.

Reducing deputies is a bad move

"We're not at all happy," was how Major Ewin Knezevich, administrative supervisor in the Madison County Sheriff's Department, describes the necessity of laying off nine persons in the coming fiscal year, the result of budget restraints. We can only agree. We are not happy either.

We in Granite City have seen what happens when police dispatchers and other non-commissioned law-enforcement personnel are laid off. Uniformed officers take their places and no one takes the place of the uniformed officers. The results — fewer officers on the street, fewer patrols and fewer crimes solved by arrests.

At a time when crime is a major concern for all of us, every effort should be made to keep the law enforcement agencies at full strength.

Sheriff Toffant is budgeting for five fewer jailers, three less deputies and a loss of one clerk. Someone will have to fill the gap. Jailers would be replaced by deputies.

Should the county board decide the budget is still too high, it could order further cuts and the number of deputies moved from crime fighting to records keeping and prisoner watching could increase. That would be a mistake.

We urge the county board not to cut the sheriff's department further. The people of Madison County want and need their protection.

We also urge the county to begin studying the possibility of a separate tax levy for more deputies. We believe law enforcement is one area people would be willing to spend a few cents more to keep.

Long Quad-City link to SIUE

Today's beginning of the 25th-year anniversary celebration of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville brings back many memories for Quad-Cityans.

Local people contributed funds for land acquisition and aided in the planning on an unofficial basis, among them the late State Superintendent of Public Instruction George T. Wilkins.

SIUE traces its history in Madison St. Clair counties to 1949, when the Carbondale-based university opened a residence center in Belleville for extension courses. It was in 1947, a quarter-century ago, that Alton and East St. Louis residence centers were established. (The name of the campus newspaper, Alestie, is an acronym for Alton, East St. Louis and Edwardsville.)

Ground was obtained and advance planning was carried out for the main campus—a spectacular 2,600-acre gem whose ideal setting is an area of rolling hills southwest of Edwardsville. Groundbreaking for the initial buildings took place May 2, 1963, and classes began there in September 1965. The SIUE School of Dental Medicine was dedicated Oct. 3, 1972, utilizing former Shurtleff College facilities.

Meeting a local need that had remained unresolved for decades, Southern Illinois University sharply increased the percentage of high school graduates here going on to higher education.

Today, SIUE operates five major academic buildings, a library, university center, administrative building, environmental resources training center, supporting services building and 496 apartments for single and married students. Along with 45 bachelor and 34 master degrees, it offers an education doctorate in the instructional process, the doctor of dental medicine degree and a dental family practice residency program.

SIUE cost millions to create, but its absence had been proving costly in other ways. And taxpayers got their money's worth; the location and architecture have made it one of the most beautiful universities anywhere. Like SIUE, it not only teaches students but strives to enhance the surrounding communities and regions.

Quad-Cityans are proud to be an integral part of its past accomplishments, present services and future objectives.

Competition for NASA is healthy

It remains to be seen whether private enterprise can successfully enter the most technologically advanced field on Earth (or outside of Earth)—the field of space technology.

A 37-foot Conestoga I rocket, owned by Space Services, Inc., has been successfully launched from a pasture in Texas, nearly erasing memories of the first launch attempt, which ended in an explosion on the launch pad.

The successful launch was "a giant leap" for Space Services. It remains to be seen whether it was the first "small step" for private enterprise in the space field.

NASA (the National Aeronautics and Space Administration) had been the sole proprietor of space-launching facilities in the United States, at taxpayers' expense, until a brave group of investors decided to put their money where their ideas were and buy stock in Space Services, Inc., which includes former astronaut Deke Slayton among its advisors.

While Space Services recent launch was not intended to reach orbit, it proved that the private rockets can work and the company now is "shooting" for a date in 1984 to send a rocket into orbit.

Space Services investors are convinced that the company can eventually launch commercial satellites cheaper than NASA, and still make a profit. We wish them well.

It would be great to remove from the taxpayers' shoulders the burden of supporting the routine launching of satellites and leave NASA free for deep space exploration, which, we believe, is important for future generations.

Plea to assist the handicapped

Next time you are in a hurry and the only parking space you see is marked for handicapped persons, please stop and think. The Disabled American Veterans group is urging.

"A handicapped parking place isn't a special privilege for a disabled person. It's not even a convenience. It's a necessity," says Edward G. Galian, national commander of the DAV.

"Let me stress that the disabled are not asking for sympathy. Handicapped people don't want or need any pity, but they do want a little understanding about things like handicapped parking zones," he added.

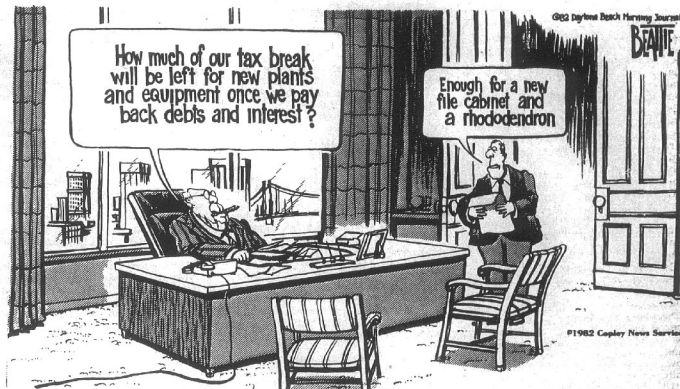

It is difficult for some of us who do not have handicaps to fully understand the problems of those who do. Galian points out. Many have mobility impairments which makes it difficult for them to get around. Imagine a person with an artificial leg having to carry a heavy grocery bag over a long distance. The effort can cause serious pain and, perhaps even bleeding.

People with wheelchairs, walkers, leg braces or artificial limbs need ramped curbs near their parking places so they can get to the sidewalk. If cars are parked close together near the sidewalk, it can be difficult or impossible to squeeze a wheelchair between them, effectively blocking access to the handicapped.

Also, the wheelchair bound cannot squeeze their car into a tight parking space and just get out. They need additional space beside their car to jiggle their wheelchair out and open it. The same is true of other mobility aids, such as walkers and crutches. That's why handicapped parking spaces are set up with extra space on either side.

An unthinking motorist who pulls into a parking space too close to a handicapped motorist's car can make the handicapped person a prisoner in his car, until the able-bodied motorist returns. The DAV has designated October as Handicapped Parking Awareness Month. "Handicapped parking places are for handicapped people. Please, don't put yourself in their places," Galian implores.

McPike, Price, Stevenson are criticized

To the Editor:

I urge everyone to attend as many Republican functions as possible, and talk up the candidates to friends and associates.

Everyone's help in turning out Republican voters on election day could be the critical difference in the close contests expected. If we turn out our voters, we can win.

Let me give two examples of liberal Democrats who do not deserve re-election.

State Rep. Jim McPike recently had a fund-raiser in Chicago, whose interests he faithfully serves.

McPike, in voting for his salary increase, told voters who didn't like his vote to defeat him. He is probably the most left-wing legislator in Southern Illinois and was a local campaign manager for George McGovern.

McPike regularly votes for tax increases. He recently opposed tax relief for farmers and voted against abolition of the inheritance tax.

McPike is one of the strongest abortion advocates in the Illinois House of Representatives.

Cong. Melvin Price? Columnist Jack Anderson describes Price as the most ineffective congressman.

Have you personally seen Mel in years? If you are one of the few who have seen him, you know he can hardly read a short speech from notes. His health has faded.

He does not actively promote his district. He votes for all of Tip O'Neill's big spending proposals, ranking in the top one percent of Congressional spenders.

Price actually spends more time on vacation-like foreign junkets than in his own district.

Let us put our shoulders to the wheel. Let's have a Republican victory this November.

It is often said that "Mel Price" will have his Congressional seat for as long as he wants it." This is untrue.

He will have it only as long as Republicans let him have it. Price can be defeated. It will take a lot of hard work, but it can be done. If every Republican who voted in the primary finds five Democratic or Independent voters for Bob Gaffner, the race is won.

And if every Republican who didn't vote in the primary finds just one Gaffner vote, we have a landslide.

Mel Price is vulnerable. Price can be defeated.

Bob Gaffner is an articulate, intelligent, energetic candidate, but he needs help. Search out places for him to speak, distribute his literature, convince friends to vote for him, and support him financially.

Let's make his name known to everyone in Madison County. The race will be won or lost right here.

Let's all get behind Gaffner now so we can all point with pride to our new congressman and know that we truly helped him win.

Let's have a real representative for a change.

The Nov. 2 election is only a few weeks away. Alpathy among Republicans must be corrected or we will lose.

We can win if we all become concerned and work. Please look around the precinct or neighborhood for any unregistered Republicans and see that they register before Oct. 3.

A few more votes in each precinct will make a great difference.

If Adlai Stevenson and the Democrats control the state legislature, everyone's state income tax will be increased at least 60 percent.

The debts of the Chicago schools and transit system and welfare systems will be placed on the back of all Illinois citizens, rather than force the Chicago machine to institute economies.

THROUGH THE FILES

Compiled from the pages of the Granite City Press-Record

50 Years Ago

September 30, 1932
How many persons recall these catastrophic headlines in the Granite City Press-Record five years ago today as they chronicled to a dazed and terrified Tri-Cities the worst tragedy in loss of life and injury ever recorded in this community, and second only in damage wrought to the great flood of 1903?
"Cyclone rips district — death toll is 8 killed and fifty injured!"
The tornado occurred five years ago yesterday afternoon on Thursday, September 29, 1927. It swept through the Tri-Cities in mid-afternoon at a velocity of 90 miles per hour after killing and maiming hundreds of people in north St. Louis.

Venice was the first to feel its power on this side of the river with Madison and Granite City being struck by the "twister" in rapid succession. Death and injury followed in its wake in each of the three cities. It seemed that as the tornado progressed eastward, its death-dealing and destruction increased for in Venice there was one person killed, in Madison there were three and in Granite City four.

25 Years Ago

September 26, 1957
Members of the Auxiliary Police in Madison county prevented "sabotage" of the river locks at Granite City and Alton in a simulated raid by "saboteurs" last night. Two squads of "saboteurs," composed of 14 soldiers from the Granite City Engineer Depot, were to plant simulated booby traps, bombs and high explosives at the two locks.
The alert began at 7 p.m. when the Madison County Auxiliary Police Association received word that "enemy action" was expected in the county area. About 110 men and women of the Auxiliary Police from Granite City, Venice, Alton, East Alton, Bethalto, Coile Hills, Hartford and Roxana responded to the alert, and a rendezvous point was set at Hartford.

Troops from the depot tried to penetrate the locks, but were unsuccessful and the squadron of "saboteurs" at Alton was captured. The squad at the Chain of Rocks locks here escaped.

Storytime sessions at library set

A new series of storytime sessions will be held at the Granite City Public Library from Oct. 7 through Dec. 22. This free program will be given each Thursday at both the main and branch libraries. Parents should register their children for either the 10 to 10:30 a.m. storytime at the main library, 2001 Delmar Ave., or the 1:30 to 2 p.m. storytime at the branch library, 6 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, according to Jeanette Bobben, children's librarian. Each session of the two-week program will consist of a half-hour of stories, games, and fingerplays aimed at the pre-school child. In addition, special parties are planned for Halloween and Christmas. No age limit is set; however, in order to attend, children should be able to sit with the group without parent, she added. Storytimes provide children with exposure to good children's literature and the experience of being with other children the same age. Each child will receive a name tag and attendance sticker for each storytime attended.

Registration is going on now and is limited. Contact the children's department of the main library (876-0550) or the branch library (876-7835) to register or to obtain more information, the librarian noted.

SCHLEMER GROUP MARKS FIRST YEAR

Phil Schlemer, local bandleader, and his musical organization, will mark their first anniversary Oct. 3, with a celebration at the American Legion Park, Edwardsville, hometown of the bandleader.

There will be dancing and entertainment starting at 2 p.m. Celebrities and music talent booking agencies and bookers have been invited, along with Musicians Union officials.

Cosentino charges that drivers' license examiners are assigned a 'failure quota'

State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino charged in Granite City, Monday afternoon that the appointed secretary of state

Recover items from burglary

Officers from Madison and East St. Louis went to an address in Garesche Home, Madison, during the weekend to recover items allegedly taken in a Sept. 18 burglary at an East St. Louis residence.

A stereo system, receiver, turntable and two speakers, valued at $2,500, allegedly were found in the house and confiscated, pending further action by the East St. Louis Police Department.

Other items reported missing in the burglary and not yet recovered were a camera worth $300, $350 in cash, a video game worth $65 and a CB radio costing $65.

deliberately intends to fail 10 percent of the Illinois residents who take driving examinations.

"Drivers' license examiners are required to fail at least 10 percent of the citizens taking driving tests," Cosentino contended. "Administrative pressure to make the quota is applied in the form of circulated lists of those examiners who do not comply."

Cosentino said that he has in his possession memoranda which prove that the appointed secretary of state required what is referred to as a "minimum 10 percent drive failure rate."

Cosentino, the Democratic candidate for the office, said that his opponent is being arbitrary and entirely unfair in applying such a quota system.

"How would you like to be taking a driving test at the end of the month and know that the examiner has not made his quota?" Cosentino asked. "What if an examiner has a run of good drivers?"

Cosentino said that he certainly does not believe that every driver who is given the test should pass, "but fair and even standards should be applied to all drivers," he said. "If the tests are administered impartially, the bad drivers will be weeded out. But to apply a rigid failure quota to all examiners is totally unrealistic."

Cosentino contended. Cosentino said, that the Republican appointee seems to be attempting to accomplish two purposes by circulating the lists of examiners who do not "measure up" to the failure rate.

"He is putting pressure on Democratic holdovers in the office to perform their jobs according to his own unfair standards and, perhaps, force their resignations. Also, he is ordering employment to deal with Illinois citizens in a harsh, unreasonable and unjust manner."

"This is another bad example of how Republicans operate the office of secretary of state," Cosentino charged. "They use statistics to suit their own political purposes and forget that common sense is the most important tool in the operation of any public office."

"This is just one more poor administrative practice in the office that I will stop when I become Secretary of State," Cosentino said.

Cosentino's comments were made to reporters prior to a fund-raising party in his honor Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant.

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, September 30, 1982—5

Charge two with theft

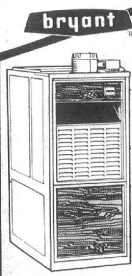

Gary L. Walliser, 18, of 1929 Sixth St., Madison, pleaded guilty to charges of theft and driving while his license was suspended in an appearance in the Granite City court at 5:40 p.m. Monday. He was fined $567 and was released.

Walliser and another man, Darryl L. Fisher, 17, of 2412 Nameoki Road, were arrested during the weekend at Route 203 and Highway 162, near the Granite City Steel Blast Furnace, following an incident in the 2800 block of East 24th Street.

At that location, an officer alleged seeing a vehicle pull away from the curb with its lights off. A bicycle allegedly was in the trunk of the car. The men were returned to East 24th Street and a woman, residing in the 2800 block of Edwards Street, reportedly identified the bicycle, valued at $100, as her property. Fisher also was charged with theft and was released during the weekend on payment of a $52 cash bond.

Capture 2 at store

Alerted that a burglary might be in progress at Earl's Discount Store, 18th Street and Cleveland Blvd., at 12:10 a.m. today, Granite City police captured two juvenile boys.

The two were questioned and then were taken to the Madison County juvenile detention home at 5 a.m. today.

When dispatched to the store, police determined that the burglary suspects were inside. Calls were sent out for a police dog unit from the Madison County sheriff and also a ladder truck from the Granite City fire department.

The store was surrounded by the police. The two arrests followed and the apparent theft attempt was thwarted.

At the time the two youths were taken into custody inside the store, it appeared that nothing had been removed from the shelves, but that items had been moved about inside the store.

The October 1982 issue of Hustler Magazine features a revealing photograph of a Quad-Cityan. She is described in the publication as follows: "Twenty-one-year-old Connie is a housewife who enjoys biking, crafts and the outdoor life." Firing of housing authority head

By PAIGE ST. JOHN

Without explanation, the executive director of Madison County Housing Authority has been fired.

Executive Director Janet Harolan said she walked into her Collinsville office Tuesday morning and was met by Authority Commissioners Reese Hoskin of Collinsville and Paul Bargiel of Madison. They told her she had been fired the night before, she said.

Calling the firing, "a shocker," Miss Harolan related, "The Authority (Hoskin) was there and the first vice chairman (Bargiel) was there and they told me it was in the best interest of the housing authority that they terminate me," Miss Harolan said.

The authority operates public housing throughout the county, including the Garesche, Grenzer, Venice, Lee Wright and Viola Jones Homes in the Quad-City area.

As of Wednesday afternoon, Miss Harolan said she still had not learned of any specific reason for her firing. Her termination came during a special board meeting Monday night.

Commissioners met in closed session for about a half-hour and then, in open session, voted unanimously to relieve Miss Harolan of her duties. The only other person present at meeting was authority Secretary-Treasurer Jackie Bone.

Staff members, including Miss Harolan, had been instructed that their presence at the meeting was not required.

Voting to oust Miss Harolan were Commissioners Hoskin, Bargiel, Tom Leffer of Edwardsville, and Robert Dauderman of Alhambra. Bone said there was no discussion during the open session of the motion (made by Bargiel) to fire Miss Harolan.

Her termination was effective immediately, but she will continue to receive pay until Dec. 30, when her contract would have expired. No replacement was named.

Wednesday afternoon, Hoskin had little to say about the board's decision.

"We felt it was in the best interest of the authority at this time," he said. No further explanation of Miss Harolan's termination will be given, he said, "unless we find it necessary."

Miss Harolan, 26, had little experience with public housing when she was named director in 1980. She had worked for the authority for 10 months as assistant executive director and had filled in when the director before her was ousted.

Miss Harolan said she had no prior hint of her termination. "I went in Tuesday morning expecting a regular day's work ahead of me," she said. I am hoping it is not my work record... they had never given me any indication I had ever done anything that would result in this."

Housing authority staff members were just as

LEAVE APPLIANCES ON CITY SIDEWALK

Two men driving a green pickup truck stopped in the 1900 block of Third Street, Madison, during the weekend, unloaded a yellow stove and a refrigerator onto the sidewalk and left. A search of the area for the truck proved negative and the appliances were removed to the Madison city garage.

RUNS FROM POLICE

A 24-year-old Madison man allegedly grabbed two packs of cigarettes and ran from Schermer's Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, during the weekend. Advised by an officer that he was under arrest, the man dropped the cigarettes and fled on foot. He was last seen in the 700 block of State Street.

Investigating van break-in Awakened in the early morning hours by a noise, David Guardiola, 1817 Rhodes St., Madison, saw a man step out of his van carrying something and run down an alley. Upon investigating, he found a digital clock, equalizer and CB radio were missing from the vehicle's overhead dashboard, he told police.

The thief was blond, about 20 years old, 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds and wearing a blue and white shirt and jeans.

Guardiola reported driving his van around the neighborhood looking for the thief and then reported the incident to an officer in the 600 block of Madison Avenue. A man resembling the description was seen at Sixth Street and Alton Avenue, but denied entering the van when questioned. Guardiola's property later was recovered in an alley in the 1700 block of Rhodes Street. An investigation is continuing.

BURGLARS HIT HOUSING OFFICE

An inventory of missing items was being compiled earlier this week following a burglary at the Kirkpatrick Homes office-garage building, reported Monday by Dave Morgan, Granite City Housing Authority director.

Entry was gained into the garage area by cutting a screen and climbing down ductwork to the floor. Initially discovered missing were clocks, radios, tools, tool boxes and some coins.

Scottish Rite awards grants to seek schizophrenia causes

A series of 17 grants amounting to $400,000 for basic research into the causes of schizophrenia has been announced by Dr. Robert H. Felix, director of research for Scottish Rite's major charitable program.

Announcement was made at the annual meeting of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Freemasonry for the Northern Jurisdiction of the United States, which has attracted an attendance of 2,400 from 15 northeastern and midwestern states. The latest grants continue the principal benevolent activity of the Northern Scottish Rite Masonic organization, which began in 1934 with an initial yearly expenditure of $15,000. In the course of 48 years, more than $8.5 million has been appropriated by Scottish Rite in an effort to determine the underlying cause or causes of the world's most prevalent and serious type of mental illness.

In explaining the new grants, Dr. Felix, Dean Emeritus of the St. Louis University School of Medicine and a former director of the National Institute for Mental Health, stressed that the selected projects were chosen for support from a total of 52 applications that were submitted for evaluation by the research director and the professional advisory board.

Numbered among newly-instituted research projects is one conducted by Francis J. White, Ph.D., and Rex Y. Wang, Ph.D., of the Department of Pharmacology at the St. Louis University School of Medicine, where a study is underway on antipsychotic drugs and dopamine neurons.

Those accepted will be invited to campus for the scholarship competition on Nov. 21-22.

Competition for church career scholarships

MacMurray College at Jacksonville is inviting young men and women interested in a church-related career to take part in the 1982 Church Careers Scholarship Competition.

The top award in the new program is a full-tuition scholarship which will underwrite the cost of all tuition and fees for a four-year period. Its value is $16,800.

The college is also offering two half-tuition scholarships, each valued at $8,400 and renewable annually for four years.

"This is a new program designed for students who are considering the pursuit of a church career or a church-related vocation," said Dr. Jim Goulding, associate professor of philosophy and religion, director of the Church Careers program.

Eligibility extends to high school seniors planning to enroll in college in the fall of 1983, and current junior college students.

Those interested would be considering a career in one of the following areas: ordained ministry, counseling, Christian education, music in the church, missionary service, ministry to the hearing impaired, and church social work.

Although MacMurray is affiliated with the United Methodist Church, Goulding stressed that the competition is non-denominational.

Applicants, however, must attain a cumulative average of B or better or rank in the upper one-third of their graduating class. Promise for leadership in the church must also be demonstrated.

An added qualification is that each applicant must be nominated for the competition by his or her local pastor. The deadline to apply is Oct. 15.

Those accepted will be invited to campus for the scholarship competition on Nov. 21-22.

Financial records help reduce taxes

Collecting and maintaining good financial records can help save taxpayers substantial time and money when they prepare their income tax returns, an IRS official said today. The following questions and answers, prepared by the Internal Revenue Service, provide basic information on record-keeping for tax purposes.

Q: I know I should keep records on the money I earn each year for tax purposes, but what receipts should I save?

A: You are legally required to keep records necessary to prepare a complete and accurate income tax return.

Generally, this includes any Wage and Tax Statements (Form W-2) from your employer(s), Forms 1099 from financial institutions—reporting interest and dividend income, and Forms 1099 UC from any agency that paid you unemployment compensation.

If you earn tips in your job, these tips must be recorded daily. IRS Form 4070A, "Employee's Daily Record of Tips," is a handy way to keep this record.

Q: Are there any other receipts, in addition to the special reporting forms, that are required?

A: Taxpayers can benefit from special tax advantages if they can show they're entitled to them.

Homeowners, for example, will find it useful to save receipts and statements to document mortgage interest payments, real estate and personal property tax payments, and expenditures for the insulation and weather stripping of homes for the energy conservation credit.

You must be able to document any deductions you may claim for casualty losses, charitable contributions, credit card and installment purchase interest payments.

Q: I am taking care of my elderly father, who resides in my home. My brothers and sisters contribute to his support from time to time. What type of records should we keep in this situation?

A: It's a good idea to keep a record of what each of you contributes to your father's support. The person who contributes more than 50 percent is entitled to claim your father as a dependent on his or her tax return.

If no one of you contributes more than 50 percent, you should decide who will claim him as a dependent and receive the $1,000 tax exemption.

It is often helpful to keep records for expenses to determine the amounts contributed, as well as any medical expenses your father might incur. A daily diary of these expenses, as well as household expenses, may also be a good idea.

Bear in mind that only the person who claims your father as a dependent can take deductions for expenses he or she has paid for your father.

Q: If I itemize deductions and tax credits, is there any special form I must use for record-keeping?

A: No, you can keep receipts in any manner you wish as long as you can document each deduction you take.

One method you might find convenient is to categorize deductions. For example, you could keep receipts for all medical expenditures together as one category; energy conservation expenditures as another, etc.

Q: When I itemize casualty losses due to theft or an unexpected disaster, what do I need to substantiate those losses?

A: In the event of a theft or disaster, it is helpful to have documentation to support the value of your property. Photographs of the items and/or insurance appraisals are good ideas as well as any sales receipts showing the purchase price.

Q: My sister is divorced and has joint custody with her ex-husband of their two children. Does she need any special records for tax purposes?

A: If there's a question as to who can claim the children as dependents, documentation of their support should be carefully recorded.

The parent providing more than 50 percent of the support of the children will be the one who will be entitled to the $1,000 exemption for each.

Q: How long should I keep my records?

A: You should keep records that support an item of income or a deduction until the period of limitation for the tax return expires. Usually this is three years.

from the date the return was due or filed, or two years from the date the tax was paid—whichever is later.

Q: Are there any situations that might require my keeping records longer than three years?

A: Yes, if you income-average when figuring your taxes, you will need copies of your tax returns for at least four years.

Income averaging allows the taxpayer to reduce tax by computing it on an average income amount.

Also, records of property transactions, such as the purchase or sale of a home, should be kept for as long as they are material.

Sometimes the basis of new or replacement property depends on the basis of old property. In this case, documents showing the basis of the old and new property should be retained.

Q: Are there any special publications that explain what records are needed to prepare an income tax return?

A: Yes, IRS Publication 552, "Record-keeping Requirements and a List of Tax Publications," is available free by writing the IRS or calling the Forms and Tax Information number here, 800-972-5400.

Preventive Health Care is homemakers program

Diet, exercise or good health habits - which factor is most important in preventive health care? Gene Zim and Becky Lewis presented the major lesson "An Ounce of Prevention" to members of Creative Women Homemakers Home Extension Unit at the home of Diane Gebhardt.

There is no one factor guaranteed to assure one of good health members were told. Controlling weight, increasing physical activity and regular health check-ups all contribute to good health. Regular dental check-ups as well as monitoring child growth and development, and annual medical checkups, if recommended by your physicians contribute to better health. Major responsibility for an individual's health rests with that individual. While physicians make important contributions in the regard, it can be speculated that perhaps only 10 percent of what determines good health is under doctors' control, the speakers explained.

During the meeting the reading of the minutes and roll call were conducted by secretary, Becky Lewis.

Chairman Martha Leavell led the group in the pledge of allegiance and called for reports from officers. Treasurer's report was given by Judy Propp.

Announcements and reports were given by Joan Stark, first vice-chairman; Young Homemaker Mickey Strack, and Sue Brinkhoff, international chairman, who said she will collect "Pensies for Friends" at the October meeting. Sentence driver involved in chase

In an appearance at the Granite City court at 5:40 p.m. Monday, Sher'ron Thompson, 38, East St., Louis, pleaded guilty to 20 charges filed by two police departments in connection with alleged thefts at two local stores, a high speed car chase in which two vehicles were damaged, including a Granite City squad car, and various traffic violations.

She was sentenced to spend 90 days at the Illinois Department of Correction's prison facility for women at Dwight, Ill., near Chicago, on three of the charges: reckless conduct, leaving the scene of an accident with physical damage and retail theft.

Willie Dean, 40, of St. Louis, also known to local police as Lee Brown, a passenger in the Thompson vehicle, pleaded innocent to charges of theft, retail theft and obstruction of a police officer. The latter charge stemmed from his arrest here in August when he allegedly gave police the name Lee Brown, an officer said.

In addition to those charges already listed, Miss Thompson was charged by Granite City police with fleeing from police, not having a valid driver's license, speeding (95 mph in a 55 mph zone and 65 mph in a 40 mph zone), two counts of disobeying a traffic signal light, disobeying a red light, failing to give information at the scene of an accident, theft and five counts of disobeying a stop sign.

Madison police charged Miss Thompson with not having a valid license, reckless driving and improper lane usage.

The chase sequence started after police were notified of the alleged theft of six bottles of cognac from Corral Liquors, 3304 Nameoki Road, and a vehicle operated by Miss Thompson allegedly violated a red light on Nameoki Road at Manley Avenue and collided with a vehicle driven by Clifford L. Black of Granite City.

The woman's auto was pursued by a Granite City squad car along West Pontoon Road, Chouteau Slough and Rock Road, back to Illinois Route 3 and south to near a roadblock set up by Venice and Madison police officers, sheriff's deputies and an Illinois secretary of state officer at Bissell Street and Route 3.

At that point, Miss Thompson's auto allegedly made a U-turn, heading north in the southbound lanes and collided with a second police car which was in pursuit and both Dean and Miss Thompson were arrested. A bottle of cognac from Reese Drugs allegedly was among several other items in the vehicle.

A mittimus was issued against Dean and he and Miss Thompson were transferred Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Former members and wives will be at Camp Sunnen Oct. 8, 9 and 10.

Toth said the cutoff time for former members to have their fees paid is this Monday.

The event is being coordinated by former post presidents John R. Hooks of Edwardsville, Attorney Michael Bilbrey, Madison Police Officer William Weidner, Thomas Hooks of Maryville and Keith Sanders of Madison.

Law broadens visitation rights of grandparents

A new law broadens visitation rights for grandparents when a grandchild's mother or father has died.

A previous Illinois law a year ago gave grandparents the right to visitation of grandchildren when parents became divorced or separated.

The new measure takes that idea one step further by allowing the courts to grant visitation rights to grandparents when one of the children's legal parents has died.

House Bill 2039 will permit grandparents or great-grandparents visitation rights when the court determines it is in the best interests of the child.

The bill will allow joint custody where the court determines it to be in the best interest of the child and both parties in the legal proceeding agree to the arrangement.

The measure takes effect immediately.

Nursing home residents honor GC funeral homes

Colonial Haven Nursing Home, 3900 Stearns Ave., hosted a successful event, "Farewell with Appreciation," recently in honor of Thomas, Davis and Irwin funeral homes for the past transportation services provided to the nursing home residents.

The "Bells of Joy," a contemporary gospel group, provided lively musical entertainment with special dedications to the management and staff of the funeral homes.

The presentation came when Lester Gramman, a blind, right leg amputee, expressed his own personal gratitude for the many charitable transportation trips provided by Thomas Mortuary during his past five months of intensive rehabilitation. The senior resident received a tearful, loudly applauded standing ovation of 120 guests when he thanked the staff of nursing. Certificates were presented expressing appreciation for the funeral homes' contributions in adding enjoyment and enrichment to all of those 'living' at Colonial Haven, a spokesman said.

Welfare fraud law toughened

The offense of state benefits fraud has been defined by an Illinois law. Persons who illegally obtain eligibility for state or local benefit programs are subject to penalties, depending on the amount of benefit involved.

Cases where more than $300 in benefits have been received are Class 3 felonies and carry a prison sentence of up to five years. Less than $300 in illegal benefits falls into the Class 4 felony category and has a maximum three-year prison term.

The law also clarifies state statutes dealing with false Illinois identification cards.

DAV Chapter hears state commander

John Horan, Department of Illinois State Commander of the Disabled American Veterans, was a guest at the September meeting of Quad-Cities Chapter 53. He reported that the department's financial condition is sound and that they are cooperating with National Headquarters in their drive to attain one million members by 1985. He said that 50,000 members is a realistic and attainable goal for Illinois. Larry Lockhart announced that Harry Laws and Harry Houseman are both hospitalized and that Bill Kmucha has been released from the hospital and is recovering at home. Donations to the United Way, the John Cochran VA coffee and doughnut fund and National Employ the Handicapped (NEH) were approved on recommendations from Andrew Gitchoff and George Krpan. Joe Heffley said the chapter's membership is progressing steadily and that he anticipates another membership gain this year.

The chapter will invite all potential members from this area to its next meeting on Oct. 18, he added. During the meeting, Robert Pine reported that a compensation cost of living increase of 7.4 percent has been approved by the House and that it is expected that the Senate will follow suit with the president's signature in time for the increase to be effective Oct. 1. He also reported that, in the future, the VA will require proof of dependency, i.e., birth certificate, marriage license, etc., of veterans making claims for dependency allowance. Lawrence McGuire announced that the National Service Office (NSO) van will be at the DAV home again on Oct. 20 and that all veterans are welcome to visit with NSO's, Doug Stout and Gary Klevin, for free VA claim service.

CLOSE CROSSING
The Illinois Department of Transportation has announced that Ninth Street (Route 203) in East St. Louis will be closed to through traffic at the Louisville and Nashville Railroad crossing at Baugh Avenue for five days beginning Monday, Oct. 4, at 8 a.m. through 4:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 8. Detours will be marked using St. Clair Avenue, 15th Street, Lynch Avenue and Baugh Avenue during the reconstruction of the crossings.

State publishing Software Directory

Peter B. Fox, director of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, announced Friday the availability of the "1982 Illinois Software Directory."

The 184-page book is a compilation of producers and distributors of software packages in Illinois.

"This project actually began in January when I read an article in Crain's Chicago Business by John A. Kennedy, president of James Electronics Company," Fox said. "The article pointed out the need for a state-wide software listing, and we agreed."

Fox noted that the new directory, listing services of more than 300 Illinois high-tech companies, is especially valuable to the state's small businesses.

"This comprehensive listing gives the smaller software producers the chance to make their services known throughout the state. Many of these small businesses do not have the assets necessary to wage an extensive advertising campaign, and with the availability of the 'Software Directory,' they really don't need to," Fox added.

The directory lists alphabetically the name, address, telephone number and contact person for the software producers and distributors included.

Additionally, the listing shows whether the software is intended for use with mainframe computers, minicomputers or microcomputers. The listing also shows in what equipment the software is compatible and in what languages the packages are written.

An appendix lists each company by location alphabetically, enabling service users find compatible companies close by.

"We are indebted to Mr. Kennedy for providing the idea behind this project," Fox said. "Governor Thompson believes one of the keys to the economic development of Illinois is a close working relationship between the public and private sector. The 1982 Illinois 'Software Directory' is a perfect example of what this kind of cooperative venture can produce."

Copies of the "Software Directory" are available free of charge through the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, 217-782-1438.

Novich sues Madison for $15,000 fall

by DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record
A summons from the Circuit Court of the Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond counties) names the city of Madison as defendant and Gary Novich as plaintiff was read at Tuesday night's Madison City Council meeting.

Novich seeks $15,000 for injuries sustained when he was caused to fall on a sidewalk of the city where garbage, paper and debris had accumulated around a trash barrel, according to the lawsuit.

Novich required hospitalization from Jan. 16 to Feb. 15, according to a notice received by the city. Council members voted to refer the informational papers to City Comptroller Al Hudzik and Casper Nighohossian, city attorney, for further action.

City Clerk John Bellcoff read a communication that the city of Madison has received a deed from Christ Kacaleff for property on Edwardsville Road where a Mobil Service Station is located. The real estate is being vacated in conjunction with the current project of widening the roadway at that dangerous curve.

The present operator of the service station is in the process of relocating his business several blocks to the south on Edwardsville Road, and Mobil Oil Co. now is removing signs and is to remove gasoline from both the above and below ground tanks, according to a letter from Kacaleff's attorney.

Hudzik received permission from council members to contact Mobil Oil Co. and ask that the tanks and pumps be donated to the city of Madison.

Council members agreed to condemn property of Ronald J. Dunnivant at 2053 Rhodes St., which was destroyed by fire on Jan. 12. The condemnation is on the recommendation of John Dutko, city building inspector.

In Dutko's letter, he said the one-story brick veneer home was damaged so extensively that 80 percent of the house was destroyed by fire and needs to be razed to remove an eyesore, health hazard and public nuisance to the neighborhood.

The owner has been contacted about removing the house and, at the request of the owner, the city street superintendent submitted a price for removal, which the owner rejected as too high, according to Dutko.

In other discussions concerning property, Mayor Mike Sasyk announced that the vacant building at 1508 Third St. has been purchased and the new owner plans to renovate the entire building as soon as the final papers are processed.

The exterior of the building will be remodeled to coincide with the Alpine decor of other Madison business places. The purchaser plans to restore the upper floor for apartments and the lower floor for a new commercial business, the mayor added.

Alderman Thomas Gordon addressed the council in conjunction with the establishing of a laundromat at the corner of Edwardsville Road and Alton Avenue, contending that the owner has not secured a permit from the city. The owner can be stopped from continuing work on the building under the zoning board restriction or an injunction can be placed against the owner until he complies with the law, attorney Nighohossian explained. The problem was referred to the city inspector, with instructions to proceed with the proper procedure, in accordance with the city ordinances.

Alderman Donald Garrett spoke during the meeting, noting that some homes in the Fifth Ward have been condemned, but apparently no other action has been taken to remove the unsightly and unsafe buildings.

Sasyk told Garrett to bring a list of the addresses of the real estate and other pertinent information and a review of each parcel will be conducted at the next council session.

In other business, Fire Chief Mike Macek informed council members that there is no state purchasing provision to buy a new fire hose and he recommended the council approve the bid of Max Fire and Safety Co., Litchfield, Ill., the low bidder at a cost of $2.39 per foot for the 1,000 foot hose.

At a previous meeting when the bids from four companies were read, Towers Fire Apparatus, Freeburg, Ill., had submitted a bid at $1.39 per foot for the hose. During Tuesday's session, a letter was read from the company withdrawing the $1.39 bid and explaining that a mistake had been made in their offer and the new bid was for $2.39 a foot. That price was rejected by council members.

"I think the next time we advertise for bids for equipment, those companies which respond will be required to deposit 10 percent of the bid to avoid the withdrawal of an initial price after all other bids are read," the mayor said.

WINDSHIELD BROKEN
Lawrence Davis reported that the windshield and back window of his automobile were broken during the last three months as it was parked behind his home at 1018 Second St., Venice.

DEMOCRATIC PEP TALK by State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino. Democratic candidate for secretary of state in the November election, highlights a fund-raising dinner in his honor Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant.

Democrats do it better, Cosentino tells group

"You'll be proud that a Democrat holds that office, because he'll do it right," State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino, Democratic candidate for Illinois secretary of state, pledged during a fund-raising cocktail party for him Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant.

"The Republican Party has destroyed the American Dream," Cosentino contended, saying that President Ronald Reagan has been quoted as saying: "I'd like to ask him to spend some of his waking hours on it," the candidate stated to loud applause.

Cosentino noted that his opponent, Jim Edgar of Charleston, was appointed by Governor Jim Thompson 19 months ago and has "just about wrecked" the office. "He spends all his time in the airplane," Cosentino alleged.

The candidate urged the large crowd to vote a straight Democratic ticket Nov. 9, stating, "We don't need Democrats that stand on the fence, believe me."

Cosentino pledged that if he is elected secretary of state, he will urge passage of a mandatory auto insurance law and stated that Illinois is one of the few states in the nation without such protection for other drivers.

He also criticized Edgar for basing part of his campaign on strict enforcement of drunk driving laws. "We will pursue drunk drivers as well as anyone else," Cosentino stated.

Cloverleaf to have its own fire protection by Oct. 31

by DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record
The Madison City gave approval Tuesday night to Madison Fire Chief Mike Macek to extend fire protection to the Cloverleaf, East Madison area until Oct. 31, when a newly-formed fire protection group will be able to provide fire protection.

The Cloverleaf Fire Protection organization is in the process of completing the purchase of necessary equipment and, with the delivery of a $6,500 air compressor, will be ready to answer fire calls.

During the opening minutes of Tuesday night's Madison City Council meeting, a decorated cake was presented to Alderman Ida Dent in observance of her birthday and all present sang "Happy Birthday" to the honoree.

Council members also agreed to observe National Lupus Week, by proclamation, during the week of Oct. 17-23. The request was from The Lupus Erithematosus Society of Illinois, which explained it is dedicated to informing the public about Lupus, helping its victims live with and cope with the complexities of the disease and raising funds for research of the disease.

Lupus is a chronic, inflammatory disease involving the connective tissues of the body and affects almost any part or organ of the body in varying degrees of severity.

More than a half million people in the United States suffer from Lupus, with 70 percent of them women, the communication said.

Alderman Gordon voiced concern that the schedule for the senior citizen bus is not flexible enough to accommodate some emergency needs. The bus, which operates four days a week, is available for emergency calls, the mayor said. "We are trying to have the people consolidate their trips for the Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday schedule, but if there is a real need for transportation at another time, residents may call the recreation center or the city hall," Mayor Sasyk added.

Lighted soccer complex approved

A ten-year lease of part of the Prather Junior High School grounds to permit establishment of lighted soccer fields was granted by the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night.

The board acknowledged that "the best interest of the community and the residents of the school district will be enhanced by entering into a lease with the Quad-City Soccer Association for the purpose of a lighted soccer field complex."

"Real estate subject to the lease is temporarily unnecessary for school purposes. The district is authorized to accept an easement from Three D, Inc., for pedestrian access to the Granite City Park District baseball fields on Rock Road."

Signed by Donald Partney Jr., for Three D, the easement authorizes a walkway as long as "the school district uses the baseball diamonds and property of the Granite City Park District for school purposes, and a need for the easement exists to obtain access to the park district facilities from Prather Junior High School property."

"The easement shall terminate when the school district no longer uses the park district property for school purposes."

For the 12-acre site on which soccer fields will be developed in the northeastern area of the Prather campus, the Quad-City Soccer Association (formerly the YMCA soccer group) will pay rent of $1 a year.

The association will keep the property clean and orderly. It will grade, fill and fence the site and provide adequate lighting for soccer, but will not construct any buildings without written permission of the school district. A concession and restroom building is proposed.

Five fields are to be created on a site immediately south of North Street, west of a newly extended of Illinois Avenue.

The rectangular area is generally in line with Bryan, Dewey and Illinois avenues. Its southern boundary is about halfway between North Street and W. 25th Street.

Quad-City Soccer will maintain the land, make all necessary repairs, and pay all electric, gas and water bills.

The schools will have access to the soccer fields for interscholastic events but not daily practices. The parties agree that admission may be charged for competitive events.

Quad-City Soccer will provide liability insurance and hold the school district harmless for claims resulting from operation of the complex.

The association will not use the site during school hours. It will "use the fields only for games on evenings and weekends and not interfere with school programs."

McGarrahan is Venice town clerk

By PATHAY-LUTZ
For the Press-Record

William McGarrahan assumed duties Wednesday as Venice Township's clerk after the resignation of Lawrence Bilibey.

In a formal statement to the Township Board, Bilibey cited allegations that he had moved out of the township and thereby could not legally serve as clerk as the reason for his decision to resign.

According to Bilibey, his resignation would be "best for Venice Township," and he acknowledged Superintendent Christ Pashoff for coming to his defense in this matter. "I would like to thank Christ Pashoff and all of the residents who supported me at election time," Bilibey said.

The board then voted to appoint McGarrahan, a 34-year resident of Venice Township, as the new clerk. Only board member Benjamin Honorable abstained from voting on the appointment, explaining that Mayor Tyrone Echols had found another candidate for the position besides McGarrahan. When Honorable could not produce the name of Echols' candidate, the board voted to accept McGarrahan as the new clerk.

McGarrahan assumed the duties, stating, "I would like the chance to show that I can do the job and I think I can do it adequately."

TERMS UW BLITZ

A BIG SUCCESS
Linda Schermer, United Way Blitz chairman, said the Aug. 23 campaign was "a tremendous success," exceeding the organization's goal.

The UW hoped to raise $6,500 and exceeded that figure by $647 with a grand total of $7,147. Mrs. Schermer added that she expects an additional $3,000 in commitments that have yet to be returned.

The first United Way Blitz attracted 105 volunteers, she added.

DECEPTION CHARGED

Patricia A. Hufstader, 28, of 2137 Robert Ave. was charged with deceptive practice at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in connection with a transaction Sept. 21 at the Trust and Savings Bank. She was fined $190 by Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill, who set a recognizance bond at $2,000 on unrelated charges of theft, battery and disorderly conduct.

Some car licenses expiring tonight

Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced that midnight tonight is the deadline for car owners with license plate registrations expiring in September to display the orange 1983 stickers in the upper left corner of their rear license plate.

Approximately 693,500 renewal applications have been mailed to registered owners who are currently expiring stickers in 1982 stickers that expire in September," Edgar said.

Stickers may be purchased over the counter at Secretary of State facilities in Springfield and Chicago, and at 1,296 financial institutions, including 577 banks, 118 savings and loans, 600 Chicago area currency exchanges and one credit union.

Secretary of state facilities in Elgin, Chicago Heights, Galesburg, Mattoon, Bethalto and Carbondale are selling stickers on a six-month trial basis to determine if it is practical and affordable to extend sticker sales to all or some of the 103 full-time facilities.

Effective tomorrow, persons driving cars with an expired brown, September 1982, sticker will be subject to fines for improper registration.

Warriors whip Cahokia; prep for North, tourney

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — There is not usually much to be gained from a 5-0 victory when a team like Granite South so dominates a soccer game.

It took South little time to dispose of the Comanches, but the rout gave Warrior coach Gene Baker the opportunity to rearrange the field and bring in some of the bench; something he has not always been able to do this season during tougher games.

"The big thing we've been trying to do is use some depth," Baker said.

At the midway point, the Warriors have some of the hardest games of the season left to play. With the Granite North game Thursday, Quincy Notre Dame Saturday and the Warrior's Tournament of Champions starting next Wednesday, the following weeks could be grueling, particularly for the starters.

Monday night, however, there were no problems for South. Phil Popmarkoff started off the scoring only 1:30 into the game when he shot the ball from the center of the pass from Cahokia goalkeeper Rick Pearce. John Menendez got the assist.

At 13:46, Tony Segobiano put a head ball past Pearce with the assist going to Ed Cowley on a throw in. The Warriors dominated at Cahokia's end. To keep the ball away from South, Cahokia often kicked it out of bounds. The result allowed South throw-in after throw-in at the Comanche goal area. South's Cowley, who took several of the throw-ins, was particularly adept at getting the ball into the area. In fact, he nearly scored unassisted on one of the throw-ins.

Just barely two minutes later at 15:44, Cowley again assisted Segobiano, who headed the ball into the goal on a throw-in.

When the whistle sounded marking the end of the first quarter, South was up 3-0. The Warriors scored the other two goals in the second quarter and from there, held Cahokia scoreless. It was in the second that Mike Augustine, of Cahokia, became somewhat frustrated. He shoved Segobiano in the chest for no apparent reason. When Segobiano backed away, Augustine started to go after him and was then given a verbal warning. Play was resumed and Augustine was briefly taken out of the game. At 53:50, Nathan Crane scored for South

North, South rematch tonight

The Granite City South and North soccer teams will play each other Thursday at 7 p.m. for the second time this season. The game will be played at the South Ground.

South defeated North at the Steeler's field 4-0 during the first game the two played earlier this month. It was the highest goal scoring game in the series between the rivals.

The Warriors go into the game with a 12-3 record having lost to Bishop DuBourg and St. Mary's, both of St. Louis. South goalkeeper Jeb Blasingame has allowed only five goals this season.

The Steelers are having a difficult season and enter the game with a 5-5-1 record. Goalkeeper Rick Branding has played extraordinarily well behind an inexperienced defense.

unassisted. A few minutes later, Augustine, who was brought back in, threatened to become a problem and was given a yellow card.

If the Cahokia field players were frustrated with the 4-0 deficit, goalkeeper Pearce made up for his teammates problems by keeping his wits and making a superb diving save off a direct kick by Cowley. Cowley took the ball up and over the wall and into the area. It looked to be another goal, but Pearce dove to his right and deflected the ball away.

Baker said after the game that he was impressed with Pearce. "He's a good goalie," he said.

With 1:30 left in the second quarter, Bill Hency scored unassisted after he charged the area from the right and made a nice crossing shot that went into the left of the net.

After halftime, John Veizer went into goal to replace Jeb Blasingame, who made only one save during the first two quarters. Veizer was required to make only two saves during the third and fourth quarters.

Tim Paz, a letterman who has had little playing time as he recovered from a broken ankle, also played in the third quarter. Upon entering the game, Paz was almost immediately knocked down by a Cahokia player. He got up, however, with a smile on his face, obviously happy to be playing, and took the direct foul kick which deflected off a defender and back to Pearce, who hit the ball away.

Shortly after, Paz was taken out. Baker said he has played Paz "very cautiously," for fear of reinjury. Although the Warriors did not score again, they held onto the shut-out with some good play from younger team members.

"I'm happy to do as well as we did," Baker said and mentioned the upcoming games against North and Quincy Notre Dame "and then our tournament," he added.

The Cahokia game, he said, gave him the opportunity to test the team's depth, which he wants to be sure of for the tournament.

"It's time for us to get tested again to see what we can do," Baker said.

The junior varsity team also defeated Cahokia, 3-1. Troy Moore and Mike Houston both scored in the first quarter. Houston scored again in the second quarter before he was taken to the hospital with a possible ankle injury. Veizer played goal for South.

Steeler kickers down Triad 4-1

By STEVE ROTSCH
of the Press-Record

The Granite City North varsity soccer squad finally decided to win their game against Triad Monday night, 4-1, and in the process evened their season record to 5-5-1.

Steeler coach Bob Kehoe, said before the game that his team has had a problem all year with continuity. "We either play hot or cold."

The Steelers played the Knights exactly like that.

In the first quarter Granite City scored first on a goal by Benny Nolan at 13:13 with an assist from Brian Levin.

But Triad missed a perfect scoring opportunity when a pass from the Knight's Jeff Slaby rolled untouched across the front of the goal while the Steeler's goalie Rich Branding was sprawled on the ground, leaving the net open.

Both teams seemed to be evenly matched in the first half and momentum seemed to flow from one team to the other.

Then at the very beginning of the third quarter it seemed the Steelers were finally going to take charge. Tim Dean pushed in the Steeler's second goal three minutes into the quarter with assists from Brian Levin and Mike Dennis.

Triad then became aggressive. And when the Steelers couldn't clear the ball away from their net, Triad's Mike Miller kicked it in at 11:06 in the third quarter. Jeff Slaby got the assist.

But the Knights missed several other opportunities to score in the quarter, which was played almost entirely in Steeler territory.

But once again, in the fourth quarter the momentum changed in favor of the Steelers.

Triad's coach Steve Garland said, "I'd like to know what he (Kehoe) said to those guys."

"I told them the same old things," Kehoe said. "Sometimes they listen, sometimes they don't. I told them you have to quit playing individually and you have to move the ball around."

Then he added, "A lot depends on what I say and how I say it to them."

But the fourth quarter belonged to the Steelers who added two more goals to their lead. The almost identical goals came on corner kicks, headed into the net by Jim Tritshuh. Brian Levin assisted on the first goal and Dave Shelk assisted on the second. Tritshuh's first goal came at 2:54 in the fourth quarter and his second came at 10:34.

Steeler Benny Nolan was ejected from the game when he retaliated against a Triad player who kicked him. Nolan had received a yellow card earlier in the game for a dangerous play.

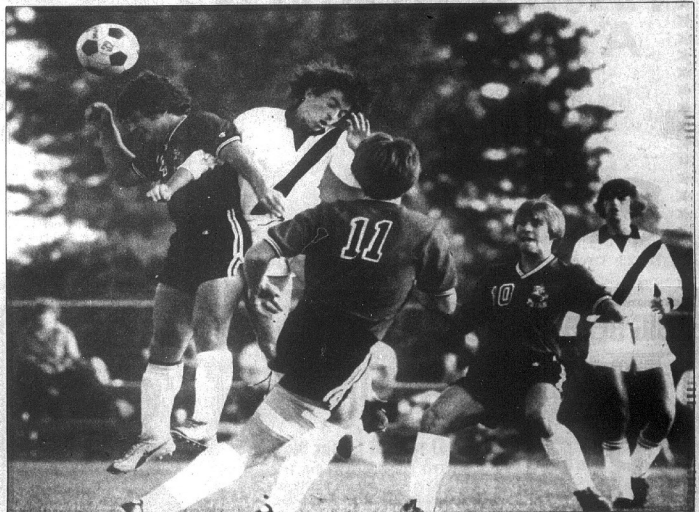

The Steeler's Doug Thornburg also was shown a yellow card when he talked back to the official.

Warrior harriers finish first, second at South Invit.

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — While Granite City South's girls cross country team won the girls' division of the Granite City South Invitational Monday, the boys team finished second.

The girls won the meet with 35 points, O'Fallon was second with 44 points, and Edwardsville was third with 85 points. O'Fallon won the boys meet with 22 points, South had 64 points, Edwardsville had 67 points, and Collinsville was last with 72 points.

The numbers would indicate South coach Richard Harmon would be more pleased with the girls' performance, but Harmon was equally as pleased with the boys' performance as with the girls.

When the boys first ran South's course, no one could run it in less than 17 minutes. However, four of the Warrior runners are now under the 17 minute mark.

"The varsity boys have knocked off a couple of minutes in their times," Harmon said. "They're going to get better because we starting to work on more speed. At first, we had to work on distance to show them they could run the course."

Nevertheless, making a good cross country runner takes a while, and the Warriors won't be major contenders for another year. However, Harmon is still expecting more improvement this year.

"We're hoping to close the gap by the end of the year. We're gradually improving, and the boys are gaining confidence now," Harmon said.

Gary Earhart finished eighth in the race in 16:06 for South's best finish in the boys' race. Ted Scrum was 16th (16:19), Ray Romine was 14th (16:25), and Jeff Kraus was 15th (16:33).

Doug McClure, Miguel Hobbs and Tim Ryan of O'Fallon finished 1-3 in the meet. McClure won in 15:06, Hobbs ran it in 15:07, and Ryan had a time of 15:08.

Pam Quarengi of Collinsville was first in the girls' meet. Her time of 11:17 beat the old course record of 12:06 by 49 seconds. South's Mary Bisch held the old record. Lisa Judisak of O'Fallon ran the race in 11:44 for second place.

Despite the fast pace set by Quarengi and Judisak, South bunched its top five girls runners in the top 10.

Lora Wiser was third with 11:57, Bisch was fourth with 12:15, Mary Romine was seventh with 12:43, Michelle Shoemaker was eighth with 12:44 and Connie Williamson was 10th with 12:44.

"All of the runners are really improving," Harmon said. "This was an important meet for the girls because we needed to get O'Fallon. Our girls just ran super."

Both Granite City South and Granite City North run in the Springfield

Invitational meet Saturday at 11 a.m.

For the third consecutive week, the Granite City High School South soccer team has been ranked first in both the coaches' and writers' polls of the "Chicago Sting High School Newsletter."

Granite City High School North received an honorable mention in the writers' poll, dropping from 14th place in the same poll last week.

Collinsville was the only other downstate school that was ranked with a second in the writers' poll and a fifth in the coaches' poll.

Waterloo-Gibault defeats Trojan kickers Tuesday

The Madison High School soccer team has an almost uncanny knack of losing games they had been winning. Tuesday night, it happened again when the Trojans lost to Waterloo-Gibault, 2-1, at the Madison field.

Trojan John Lewis scored first in the second period. DeLoy Williams threw the ball into the goal area and the Trojans shot, but Gibault's goalkeeper hit the ball away. Derek Newsome recovered and hit a chip shot to Lewis who was near the center of the area and fired the ball into the goal.

Madison held onto the lead until the fourth quarter. Defensive mistakes, which have plagued the team all year, cropped up again when a Madison defender instinctively stuck up his hand to stop a Gibault shot destined for the goal. The penalty kick was good to tie the game.

With less than 10 minutes remaining in the game, Gibault pressured the Madison defense and an unmarked player made it through the area and scored.

"I'd rather tie 0-0 and say the defense shut them out than go into the last quarter and lose," said Gene Briggs, Madison coach.

The problem still has to do with the defense's inexperience, he said. "They don't have the knowledge to know how to react to situations."

With a 4-4 record, three of Madison's four losses have been by 2-1 scores. "I'd be much more happy to tie or win 2-1," Briggs said. "I can't say I'm pleased with 4-4, but it's a better start (than last year)."

The thing that bothers Briggs the most is the team's apparent potential. He said he believes that "for the caliber of the team we have we should have lost only one game. We could be 7-1," he said.

In the past two weeks, Madison has had a busy schedule, losing two and winning two. The Trojans recently won an important game, shutting out Lebanon, 2-0.

Kevin Sipes and Michael Young scored for the Trojans. Young scored on a head ball on off a throw-in from Williams.

The Trojans also defeated St. Henry's Prep of Belleville 5-2. Sipes and Lewis each had two goals and Newsome had one in that game. Goalkeeper Robert Bishop was credited for two partial assists on long goal kicks. "There was no wind and he really got into it," Briggs said.

Freshmen Mark Martinez and Terence Hicks each scored one goal. DeLoy Williams, Gary Campbell and Robert Robinson were credited with assists.

The Trojans also lost a game against St. Paul of Highland 3-0.

Madison hosts Assumption this afternoon at 4.

ISU's Vickers scores hatrick plus two NORMAL — Scott Vickers had high expectations for a successful soccer career at Illinois State University, but even he was surprised when he scored five goals in a single game just five games into his career.

Vickers, a freshman from Granite City, proved that he had the ability when he scored five goals in the 20-0 rout of Monmouth College. He plays the forward position. According to Vickers, the Monmouth team was not that competitive, but the victory helped the morale of the team.

His goal is to play as well as he can and to basically improve. "The more that you play, the better you will get," said Vickers.

While playing, Vickers concentrates on what Coach Bodo Fritz tells him. He thinks about functioning as a good teammate by passing the ball. "You can't slack off and you always have to be alert because everyone is part of the defense," said Vickers.

Influenced by his parents, Vickers started to play soccer with the YMCA leagues at the age of six. Playing on the state championship team during his sophomore and junior years, Vickers had a successful high school career at Granite City South.

"College soccer is a lot more physical than high school soccer, but I have to give my high school coach a lot of credit for preparing me for this difference. It is mainly due to his influence that I'm continuing to play in college," he said.

He came to ISU because it is conveniently located and he knew about the soccer program. The computer science major said that soccer has helped him meet people and he feels like he is involved. "It was easy to come to ISU and associate with a group right away," said Vickers.

The game of soccer requires a great amount of concentration and coordination. "You need to be in good shape and in top condition to play because there is a lot of running," he said. According to Vickers, the team practice consists of scrimmaging and running long sprints.

He prepares for a game by talking up the game with his teammates. They psyche each other up. According to Vickers, the team is fairly young, as it is basically a building year for the team. Soccer has always been a part of his life and Vickers said that it probably always will. He will play for fun and maybe coach in the future, but for now he is too busy scoring for the ISU Redbirds.

He came to ISU because it is conveniently located and he knew about the soccer program. The computer science major said that soccer has helped him meet people and he feels like he is involved. "It was easy to come to ISU and associate with a group right away," said Vickers.

The game of soccer requires a great amount of concentration and coordination. "You need to be in good shape and in top condition to play because there is a lot of running," he said. According to Vickers, the team practice consists of scrimmaging and running long sprints.

He prepares for a game by talking up the game with his teammates. They psyche each other up. According to Vickers, the team is fairly young, as it is basically a building year for the team. Soccer has always been a part of his life and Vickers said that it probably always will. He will play for fun and maybe coach in the future, but for now he is too busy scoring for the ISU Redbirds.

Sports and the joys of parenthood

By AL BARNES

Every parent... Mom and Pop... have times when they literally hate their off-spring.

Whos, there, perhaps "hate" is too harsh a term for what I'm talking about. No doubt, what I'm thinking about is a great feeling of annoyance.

What I'm, talking about is this: a child, by merely being a normal, sweet off-spring, can be the object of intense loathing for a parent.

First, let me say, that it has been a long time since I gave this bitterness toward one or more of my kids. It happened the other night when my wife and I gave a dinner party to celebrate the birthdays of our two youngest... Foster, age 36, and Anne Teresa, age 33.

Just their birthdays are somewhat unusual since each were born on Sept. 21... but three years apart.

Foster's birth took place at the old Christian Hospital in North St. Louis. We were living then on Kosuth, just about seven blocks from Beaumont High and barely three blocks from Central.

What was particularly annoying about Foster's appearance and cause me, if just temporarily, to sort of hate him, was the day before I had won, in an office lottery, as it were, a trip to travel to Brooklyn to cover the first play-off game in National League history, a historic battle for the league crown between the Dodgers and the Cardinals, won, incidentally, by the Red Birds.

Those were the days, by the way, when the leagues, the National and the American, had just eight teams in each. That 1946 race in the National League had been a ding-dong, head-kicking brawl between the Cards and the heroes of Flatbush.

The Boston Red Sox, the eventual victims of the Cards in a bitterly fought World Series in seven games, had warped up their pennant early on Ted Williams' and Johnny Pesky, et al, combined awesome hitting.

I was a member of the St. Louis Star-Times sports department in 1946. Our reporter on the Cardinal beat was, of course, one of the best I still think, baseball writers in the history of the sports: W. Vernon Tietjen.

Our sports editor, Sid C. Keener, of course, was going to the lobby, but our M.E. (managing editor) decided that another member of the staff should also go along to do a number of side-bars on the important game.

Who was to get that beautiful assignment? It was decided that the decision would be made in a drawing, and, lo and behold, old Al was the winner.

I called home and told Joyce the good news. She didn't seem too happy. And, I of course, forgot it entirely, about the new baby due any moment. So, I rushed home and packed my suitcase and prepared to catch a plane from Lambert at 8:30 a.m. the next morning. The game was scheduled for the day after that. It was doubly exciting, the plane flight, since ball clubs and sportswriters covering them then, normally traveled by Pullman on the railroads.

So, what happened? The next morning, around about 4 a.m., my sweet wife, Joyce, woke up and said: "You aren't going to bed, are you? The baby is coming." She was right. When the plane took off, little Foster was born.

Three years later, I was scheduled to cover the important Beaumont High versus East St. Louis football game on a Friday night at Parsons Field. It matched the two top-ranked prep eleven in the St. Louis area. The date was Friday, Sept. 21, 1949.

That date, of course, if you haven't already guessed it, was the precise day that my dear, baby daughter, Anne, decided to make her debut. She was born at the hospital in East St. Louis at the exact time the Bluejackets of Beaumont and the Flyers of East St. Louis were battling it out at Parsons Field.

So, in both cases, the trip to Brooklyn and the grid game at East St. Louis, I, feeling experienced and intense feeling of loathing for my two youngest kids in a lot of five.

So, the other evening, as we enjoyed Joyce's outstanding spaghetti and meatballs dinner in celebration of their birthdays, I couldn't let the opportunity pass to remind them that when they both were born I almost... almost hated them both.

HOLE IN ONE Richard Sturdivant of Shirlene Drive in Granite City made his second hole-in-one in two years last Saturday, Sept. 25.

Sturdivant's last hole in one was just last June at Louisa Hills Golf Course in Lebanon on the 15th hole, a 165-yard par-three.

Playing with a foursome of York Lombardi, Joe Strayoff and John Palchett at Oak's Golf Course at Tan-Tar-A, he got his second hole-in-one on the par-three 160-yard fifth hole.

Warrior golfers defeat North, East and West

When things go right for the Granite City High School South golf team, things really go well.

Monday afternoon, the Warriors won a quadrangular meet against Belleville East, Belleville West and Granite City North. It was the first time ever the Warriors, under coach Dwayne "Boone" Chaney, have defeated either of the Belleville teams. One reason for the Warrior victory was John Tackett. Tackett shot a 38 in the nine hole competition, his best score ever.

The Warriors also picked up a second place finish in the prestigious Centralia Tourney Saturday. The finishes boost the Warrior record to 10-8 on the season.

Needless to say, Warrior coach Dwayne Chaney was pleased with his team's performances.

"I'm very happy. They did a lot better than I expected," Chaney said. In Monday's quad meet, the Warriors finished first with a team total of 163. East was second with 165, West was third with 166 and Granite City North was fourth with a team total of 168.

In the Centralia tourney, two Warrior duos earned honors which were given to the top 10 pairs. Ken Rapp and Randy Thurman shot a 75 to finish fourth and Jeff Pare and John Tackett shot a 76 to finish sixth.

Don Kaltmayer and Mike Sterman shot an 84.

"They did real well," Chaney said of the Warriors. The team shot a 235 total to top for second in the Centralia Tourney with the Centralia Tourney with a 232.

Cougar netters win sixth straight state final

EDWARDSVILLE — For the sixth consecutive year, the tennis Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have walked away with the top honors at the Illinois Intercollegiate Men's Tennis Championships. The Cougars, who took top honors in both singles divisions as well as the doubles competition, collected 70 points to finish 30 points ahead of SIU at Carbondale for top honors.

It was also a battle of Cougars in the second flight of the singles competition as newcomer Johan Sigren, a freshman from Tebetorg, Sweden, defeated teammate Raimo Ojala, 6-4, 6-1, for the championship. Sigren also defeated teammate Joe Yassen, a junior from Belleville, in the semifinals, 6-2, 7-5.

STRIKES WOMAN

Glenda Awall told police this week that a former boyfriend came to her home in Edwardsville and forced her to drive him back to Granite City, where his vehicle would not start. She reported being struck in the face and head by the man while she was driving in the 3200 block of Wabash Avenue.

STATE-PRODUCED CAR LICENSES PLANNED

A new state law directs the Illinois secretary of state to purchase state vehicle license plates from the Department of Corrections. Inmates will produce the plates.

Another newly-signed law gives the secretary of state the power to dissolve a not-for-profit organization if a local liquor control board finds that local liquor ordinances have been violated by the group.

CHARGE YOUTH

Janice Yates, 2845 Edgewood Ave., reported this week that a bank teller card as used in an automated system was stolen from her purse. A 15-year-old youth later was taken into custody at his home in connection with the case and was charged with two counts of theft.

Venice fashion show to aid United Way fund

The 1982 Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign will be aided with proceeds from a gala banquet and fashion show, scheduled Friday, Oct. 22, at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway, Venice. It was announced this week.

The public event will be sponsored by the Peoples Organization to Benefit Children of Venice, according to the Rev. John Henry Williams, United Way Group D chairman for the Venice area.

A special meeting to make arrangements for the show and dinner will take place tonight at 7 o'clock at the Venice Recreation Center and all Venice residents interested in helping to stage the event are being urged to attend, Rev. Williams said. "This will be our way of showing that the people of Venice are willing to work and support the United Way and its goals," the minister said, adding that "more funds are needed this year than last due to the current economic conditions.

"We want everyone to come to the planning meeting and get involved — young people, older folks, saints and sinners, politicians, candidates and non-candidates. This is a very worthy cause and we need lots of volunteers," Rev. Williams said.

The dinner and style show will be held from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Oct. 22, and a donation of $5 per person will be asked. Earl W. Hogan, co-chairman of the United Way Group D (Venice Area), said tickets for the dinner and show will go on sale starting Saturday, Oct. 2, and will be available from members of the children's organization, or by calling 451-8914 or 452-5124.

Mary Ann Pruitt has agreed to serve as chairman of the fashion show segment, it was announced.

Rev. Williams and Hogan shortly will be contacting business leaders and pastors in the community, seeking their support for this fall's United Way drive, the co-chairmen advised. Bob Glik heads the campaign's Group D Division.

SIUE celebrates 25th anniversary

The 25th anniversary celebration of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, a series of more than 125 events and activities, will be launched on the campus today with a convocation and reception in Morris Quadrangle. Preceded by a University Symphonic Band concert at 10:30 a.m., the convocation will begin at 11 a.m. with a procession of the platform party and faculty in full academic regalia, marching from the University Center to the campus mall named in honor of the University's first president, the late Delyte W. Morris.

Speaking from a stage erected in front of the Rendleman Building, with state, national and United Nations banners flying overhead, President Emeritus Clark Kerr of the University of California will deliver the convocation address, speaking on the subject, "The Future of Higher Education."

Ann Buer, president of the Student Senate.

Dr. Kerr will be introduced by Kenneth A. Shaw, chancellor of the SIU System. President Lazerson's closing remarks, "Education in the Region's Service," will be followed by the benediction and recessional, and the public is invited to a reception featuring a 25-square-foot cake, in the mall area immediately following the ceremonies.

Ministers participating in the program are the Rev. James M. Shortal, a former campus minister who is pastor of Sacred Heart Parish, Granite City, and the Rev. Joe Santee of the Religious Center at the University.

In the event of inclement weather, the convocation will be moved to Meridian Ballroom in the University Center.

The opening day festivities will be climaxed at 8:15 p.m. with the National Opera Company's performance of Johann Strauss' famous comic opera, "Die Fledermaus," in the Communications Building theater. Tickets for the presentation are $5 and are available through the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums or the Union Station ticket office in the University Center.

Special emphasis have been designated for each month of the anniversary year, with numerous events and programs scheduled each month. The special emphasis are:

October—alumni and their achievements; November—academic contributions; December—the University as a cultural and entertainment resource; January—the Friends organizations, Foundation, and giving to the University; February—prospective students and recruitment; March—fine arts, with special emphasis on theater, dance and music; April—awards and special recognitions; May—the founding of the University; and June—commencement and the future.

Major events scheduled include a series of Homecoming Week activities, Oct. 5-16; Founders' Day Awards Banquet, dedication of Founders' Park, opening of the Multipurpose Building, and an exhibition by area communities, May 14-15; and Commencement in the new Multipurpose Building, June 10. More than 100 other events appropriate to the monthly emphases and the year-long theme, "Sharing the Past - Shaping the Future," have been planned, and calendars listing the events are available from the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums or the University Information Center.

SIUE is one of two public universities administered by the SIU Board of Trustees. It serves the second most populous area of Illinois. SIU in 1949, then located only in Carbondale, established a residence center in Belleville, offering extension courses. Through the interest, work and financial contributions of area residents, the East St. Louis Residence Center and Alton Residence Center were established in 1957. SIU at Edwardsville is an outgrowth of the latter two residence centers.

Ground was broken for the first buildings on the Edwardsville campus on May 2, 1963. Peck Classroom Building and Lovejoy Library were opened in September 1965. A year-long series of campus dedication ceremonies began in May of 1966, climaxed with the burying of a time capsule containing historical documents in the center of the academic area mall.

The campus now includes five major academic buildings in addition to the library. University Center, John S. Rendleman Building, Environmental Resources Training Center, Supporting Services Building, and Tower Lake Apartments, a 48-unit complex housing single and married students.

The academic program includes bachelor's degrees, the doctor of education in the instructional process, the doctor of dental medicine, and a dental family practice residency program.

The 10th anniversary of the permanent campus was observed in 1975-76.

ENDORSE FAHNER

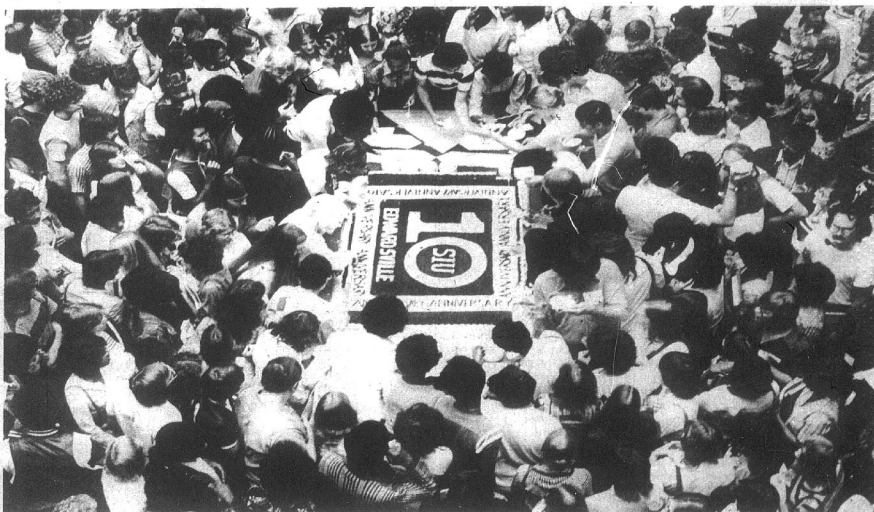

The Illinois Police Association, whose membership includes law enforcement officers across the state, endorsed Attorney General Ty Fahner, Sunday at its 31st annual convention, held in Decatur.

The endorsement of Fahner was the first of any political candidate in the history of the organization.

"We strongly believe that Ty Fahner deserves the support of law enforcement officers in Illinois," said Roland "Bud" Erber, executive secretary of the IPA. "Ty Fahner is experienced in our profession and understands law enforcement and its needs. We are happy to back him for his continuous support of the law enforcement community."

Fitness classes for area seniors

Fitness classes will begin a new session at the YMCA next week. Classes will be offered in yoga and senior citizen fitness and will meet for four weeks.

Noon Yoga and fitness will be taught by Ellen Wilson. The class meets on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays from noon to 12:45 p.m. The first class of the new session will begin on Monday, Oct. 4.

Ellen Wilson also teaches a senior citizen fitness class on Mondays and Thursdays at the Y from 9 to 9:45 a.m. and at Anchorage Retirement Center on Mondays and Thursdays from 10 to 10:45 a.m. Both senior citizen classes will start on Monday, Oct. 4. The cost for the Y class is $6 for Y members and $8 for non-members for eight classes. There is no charge for the Anchorage class.

Back exercise classes at YMCA begin Monday

"If you suffer from lower back pain, this program may be for you. The Y's Way to A Healthy Back is a special exercise program meeting twice weekly for one hour sessions for six weeks," according to David Wilson, YMCA executive director in Granite City.

The YMCA program is based on Hans Krauss findings, more than three decades ago, that at least 80 percent of back discomfort is caused by musculoskeletal deficiency, stress and tension... or a combination of these. People who under exercise, work in sedentary jobs and are subject to pain, especially low back pain.

Three kinds of exercises are emphasized during the six-week program:

- 1.—Relaxation. Used at the beginning and end of each session, these exercises aim to break muscle tension that is often the cause of neck and back pain and to warm up the muscles for exercises that follow.

- 2.—Flexibility. These try to lengthen the hamstring and calf muscles in order to reduce stiffness and rigidity of the trunk.

3.—Muscle strengthening. Progressing from mild to more strenuous, these exercises work to build up key postural muscles, including the abdominals. The exercises are not arduous and the program is progressive, beginning with six exercises at the first session and working up to 35 at the end of the course. Participants practice the exercises at home between classes.

At the beginning and end of the course, each person takes the six-item Krauss-Weber test to assess minimum muscular strength and flexibility of the major postural muscles.

RENTS WON'T GO LOWER! In fact they'll probably go higher as inflation increases. House payments are a good hedge because payments don't increase except for occasional increase in taxes or insurance. Be smart and see if you don't like this 3-bedroom ranch on the lake. Mid $20's, payments are as low as rent.

POSSIBLE VA OR FHA: Just minutes from Interstate 80. Cove ceiling and wall to wall carpeting enhance the living room of this 3-bedroom brick ranch. Spacious family room adjoins the multi-cabineted kitchen with built-in range and oven.

Opera at SIUE tonight

The National Opera Company will perform Johann Strauss' famous comic opera, "Die Fledermaus" at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tonight.

Sponsored by the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums, the opera is scheduled in the Communications building theater at 8:15 p.m. Tickets are $5.

The operatic presentation of "Die Fledermaus" will cap off an opening day of festivities as SIUE begins a year-long 25th anniversary celebration. Earlier activities in the day will include the opening convocation address by Clark Kerr, noted educator, followed by a public reception.

"Die Fledermaus" ("Revenge of The Bat") was first performed in Vienna in 1873 and has since become a favorite of audiences all over the world.

The plot of the opera revolves around a costumed ball and the antics of one character, dressed as a bat, as he seeks revenge from an earlier prank played on him. The opera will be sung in English.

Additional information and reservations for tickets may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Office of Cultural Affairs and University Museums at 1-892-2996 or the Union Station Ticket Office at 1-892-2320.

TOURS PLANNED AT SCHOOL OF NURSING

A nursing life conference for those interested in entering the field of nursing is scheduled by the School of Nursing at Missouri Baptist Hospital for Sunday, Oct. 10. It will begin at 2 p.m. in the multipurpose room.

Information about the school, including prerequisites necessary to enter nursing, cost involved, and available financial aid, will be discussed, and faculty members will answer questions. A tour of dormitory facilities and the hospital will follow a video presentation and an informal discussion period.
